10: d'Orleans--312-313 T-3 (1891-92) 1894 Laos
116, 162, 589, 793

"All the members of the religious corporation reside in the buildings near the pagodas, and they comprise nearly a tenth of the population, as a portion of the [313] body is constantly shifting. Moreover, women dressed in white, generally old maids or widows, also have their heads shaved and become female priests, their special duty being to make the collections at the pagodas."